“Foot stompin’ Jazz” is the best way to describe The Bob Murphy Band’s sound. Bob himself, playing the Hammond B3 organ, swings like mad, Hugh Fraser on trombone gets so excited from the outset he just can’t keep still, drummer Dave Robbins is a whirlwind and their longtime friend Don Clark comes back to the valley for the fourth year running to bring outstanding trumpet virtuosity. Jazz singer Monique Van Dam joins the band with a style reminiscent of Sarah Vaughan and the upbeat style of the entire group will be so contagious you’ll need to bring your dancing shoes.

Tickets available at the store. Come and join us at these events.

Why feature the breathable glass with Estate Series Wine?

We have long been proponents of making sure you get the best value from your wine by using a decanter.

Many people have listened and told us that they too have discovered the difference this makes. The Eisch Breathable Glass is the newest way to bring out the full flavour and aromas of your wine in much less time.

The glass was featured in Wine and Food magazine last January, the staff at Winexpert decided to test the effectiveness of the technology. They found that it really worked on any new wines but particularly well on the Estate Series due to the fuller, more intense flavours in these wines.

The Breathable Glass permanently keeps its properties. It can be treated just like any other high-quality crystal glass and does not require any special care.

A wine poured into this glass for just two to four minutes will show signs of aeration equivalent to the same wine that has been decanted and aerated for 1 to 2 hours

Take advantage of our offer and get your own Breathable Glass by purchasing an Estate Series kit during the month of May.

Estate Series wines include :

White wines: Washington Pinot Gris, Washington Columbia Valley Riesling, New Zealand Sauvignon Blanc, German Mosel Valley Gewurztraminer

Red Wines: Lodi Old Vine Zinfandell, Lodi Ranch 11 Cabernet Sauvignon, Napa Valley Stags Leap District Merlot, Sonoma Valley Pinot Noir, Washington Cabernet Franc/Merlot and our new product Italian Barolo.
